Guest Conductor

Sandburg Band to Give Concert

An outstanding guest conductor will appear with the Carl Sandburg high school concert band as it climaxes its concert season with a public performance in the school auditorium Sunday, Feb. 22 at 3 pm.

Director Milton Potter has arranged for Lyle Atkins, former instructor of music at Carthage college to conduct the band. Potter is a graduate of Carthage, having worked under Atkins.

Sandburg's band is recognized as one of the finest in the southwest suburban area and promises to delight the audience with a 12 number program that provides music from the light classical to the very modern.

Two solo performances will be featured with the 80 piece band. Richard Schereubel will be featured on the clarinet in the popular, "Serenade." Harry Stephens, playing the tympani will drum up excitement in a modern number, "Tympano." The program will open with

Alford's "Purple Carnival March," followed by the "Call of Bagdad," "Montmartre March," "Nordic Symphony," by Haydn Wood and "Suite for Military Band."

Other numbers to be presented include "Begunne for Band," by Glenn Osser a student of guest conductor Atkins and currently a conductor and arranger for ABC. Rounding of the list of numbers is "Dance of Japanese Youth," "Ode," "Third of February March," and "Music for a Carnival."

Scum on the Loose

Hunt Dog Poisoner at New Lenox

A dog poisoner is on the loose in New Lenox.

Three pets were killed this week, according to reports made to village police, and another about a week ago. The three dogs who died this week were poisoned Tuesday.

Trustee Noel Elliott, health commissioner, said that strychnine apparently was used in all the cases. An examination by a veterinarian of one of the dogs revealed that strychnine was the poison used.

The dog poisoned last week was owned by Charles Elliott, Jr., on Oakview ave. The dogs who died Tuesday were owned by Robert Banderob, Oakview ave., Glenn Donaldson, Gum st., and Justice of the Peace Robert Konopack, who formerly lived on the north side of the village but now lives on the southeast side.

Death by strychnine is an agonizing one and in the case of animals the symptoms usually are not observed until it is too late for an antidote.

Dog poisoning is a penitentiary offense and if the identity of the New Lenox poisoner is learned, Mayor Lloyd Berlin said, he will be turned over to the state's attorney's office for grand jury action.

Apparently the poison is spread thru some type of food and small children could pick up and eat such substances, it was pointed out, and with fatal results.

200 at St. Jude's Celebration

The main dining room of the Woodruff Hotel, Joliet, was a silvery scene of excitement on Sunday, Feb. 8, as 200 guests dined and danced in celebration of St. Jude's twenty fifth year as a parish in New Lenox.

Twelve of the original members of St. Jude's when it was established back in 1934 were able to attend; Mr. and Mrs. Max Ehrlich, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Osmus, Mrs. Joseph Wysock, Robert Wysock, Mrs. Emanuel Wondrasek, James Burns Sr., John Burlingame, Edward Butzen, Mrs. Ellis O'Daniel and Mrs. Harold Reiter. As a mark of distinction, they were presented upon their arrival with silver bouillonieres and corsages and escorted to special places at the speakers' table. As an additional memento of the occasion, every guest was given a silver medal of the church's patron, St. Jude.

The Rev. Gervase Brinkman, O.F.M., chaplain of Stateville, guest speaker, recounted the colorful history of the parish and its spectacular growth from 35 to 400 families. He pointed out that its newly constructed church and modern school facilities are a glowing tribute to its pioneer parishioners and three Franciscan priests who have been its pastors, Rev. Roman Hasenstaab, O.F.M., Rev. Reynold Klaes, and the present pastor, Rev. Denis Hall, O.F.M.

Banquet arrangements were handled by Frank Romeo, Ken Messenger, Mrs. Ted Bogdan, and Mrs. Jim McCure. John Brent and Ted Bogdan were publicity chairmen. Mrs. Magdalene Staley designed the table decorations.

The president of the Parents club of St. Jude's school, Gene Schubert, was master of ceremonies. Proceeds will benefit the school.

FRANKFORT HAS PROBLEMS

Methodists at Frankfort to Have Fund Drive

The Frankfort Methodist church L-loyalty dinner to be held at 6:30 p. m. Friday, Feb. 20, in Fellowship hall at the church is for the purpose of bringing together all members and friends of the church in a L-loyalty campaign. There will be no charge for the dinner.

The needs of the church and the people are being considered and the dinner is to bring together all interested in fulfilling these needs, particularly all adult members and others interested in the church. A nursery will be provided for small children.

No pledges or gifts will be solicited at this time, but plans are being made for an all-church canvass to rebuild the finances to insure a continued full church program.

Many who are church users have not yet discovered the rewarding experience of regular sacrificial giving it was said. Objectives of the canvass have been listed as follows: 1. Share together the spiritual experience of sacrificial giving. 2. Make it easy for new members and users, as well as those not previously pledging to the church on a regular basis.

3. Provide opportunity for each member and user to better acquaint themselves with the business of the church and activities, by face-to-face discussion with an active layman. 4. Receive pledge commitments to meet the money needs for the next budget year. 5. Stretch talents and ability to conduct a money drive without the help and expense of a professional fund raiser.

Dr. Claude Otto is chairman of the canvass committee.

Mrs. J. Hostert is arrangements chairman, J. Walker is treasurer, Mrs. G. Ferrell is secretary. Hostess chairmen are Mrs. C. W. Otto and Mrs. W. Morrison.

Caucus to Pick Candidates for Sandburg Board

The community caucus, organized in 1956 to serve Carl Sandburg high school, Dist. 230, will meet Monday, Feb. 23, at 8 p. m. at the school, 133 Street and LaGrange road. According to Earl Cutler of Palos Park, community caucus chairman, the caucus has functioned successfully for the past two years for the purpose of seeking out qualified candidates for the District 230 board of education.

The Monday meeting will begin the third year of activity for the community caucus. On the agenda will be the election of a nominating committee, consisting of seven members and two alternates, and the selection of a new executive board.

About forty organizations, with a minimum membership of 20, make up the present caucus body. Each group is represented by two delegates and one alternate, with one delegate to serve for a two-year term, and one for a one-year term. The alternate's term also is for one year.

Any permanent organization functioning within the boundaries of the Sandburg district and having a minimum membership of 20 is eligible for representation in the caucus body. Newly established groups meeting these requirements are invited to send delegates to the meeting Monday night.

Non-organization delegates are required to have petitions signed with 20 signatures. Petitions may be had from Earl Cutler, chairman, Community Caucus, 11906 Winslow road, Palos Park.

Two positions on the board of education are expiring this year, Herman Gee, of Orland and Mrs. Edna Schramm, Palos Park.

To Straighten Street Or Build Fire House; That's the Question

Should the Frankfort village board build an addition to the firehouse before straightening out Kansas street, or straighten out the street first and then proceed with satisfying the request of the volunteer fire department? Or should it do both jobs at the same time—IF and WHEN funds are available?

Some 30 members of the fire department appeared before the village trustees last Monday night to urge consideration for the engine house. There isn't room in the present house for all the apparatus, so like the Mokena department, the Frankfort firemen have to keep their tank rig—in which they haul a reserve supply of water—empty between alarms.

"We believe," said Wendell Morrison, "that it is more important to the community to spend the money on a fire house at this time than it is to straighten out this street."

Later on in a long evening Arthur C. Bauch addressed the board and in the course of his remarks indicated that he expected the board to go thru with a deal made with him to fix the street.

Mayor George Sangmeister pointed out that the board intended to go ahead with plans for a fire house as speedily as possible and that the village also expected to stand by its agreement with Mr. Bauch, but added that he for one was getting a bit fed up with pressure tactics.

A barrel has its uses as a container, the mayor conceded, but for a man to be over one is quite uncomfortable, especially with someone close by, figuratively fingering a figurative hatchet while casting speculative glances at exposed vital spots.

"First we get an individual (later the individual was identified as Bauch) who swings a hatchet over our heads by telling us that if the village wanted the match factory it would have to straighten out Kansas street by getting rid of that house that blocks it at the east end," Mayor Sangmeister told the firemen. "He told us flat that if we didn't take care of the street he wouldn't sell the match company the property it wanted for its factory."

"What else could we do? We wanted that factory. It will mean a lot to the community. It will bring in needed additional tax revenue for the schools and its large payroll will be a big asset to the entire area."

"We figured that if we let this factory get away we would be severely criticized and justly so. We didn't like to be pressured but there wasn't anything left for us to do, under the circumstances, but to give in."

"And now you fellows come in tonight and you have brought a hatchet too. Why have you waited so long? Why are you rushing in now?"

"To keep our word with Mr. Bauch we have a condemnation suit filed in the circuit court at Joliet. The owner of the property (Mrs. Anna Mitchell, now of Crystal Lake, Ill.) wouldn't sell at the price we offered and we wouldn't buy at the price asked. The house and lot were appraised at $7,500; the village offered $8,500 and the owner asked $17,500. So all that was left to do was begin condemnation."

Morrison agreed that the village board had acted the only way it could have under the circumstances but repeated that the firemen believed an addition to the fire house would be more advantageous (Continued on Page 3)

Former Orland Girl Dies From Crash Injuries

Catapulted thru the top of a convertible and hurled thru a wooden fence 45 feet away a young wife was fatally injured late Sunday afternoon in a crash at 163rd and Oak Park ave., just north of Tinley Park.

The girl, Mrs. Patricia Ann Willis, 18, of 17757 67th ave., Tinley, died Monday evening at Oak Forest hospital. Her husband, Wayne Willis, 19, was also taken to the same hospital and his condition is said to be still listed as critical.

Funeral services for Mrs. Willis are to be held tomorrow morning (Friday) from the Hirsch chapel at Tinley Park at 9 o'clock to St. George church at 9:30 with the Rev. Thomas D. O'Connell officiating. Interment will be in St. Mary cemetery, Evergreen Park.

The accident Sunday occurred while the couple was enroute home shortly after 5 o'clock. Willis was driving north on Oak Park ave. His brother-in-law, Melvin Doogan, 20, of 135th st. and 78th ave, Palos Park, was ahead of him.

Willis started to pass the Doogan car near 163rd st., it was reported. There was an ice patch on the pavement and whether Willis skidded on the ice or whether the skid was caused by a blowout in his left front tire was not determined. The left front tire did blow, according to police, but they didn't know whether the blowout occurred while the car was moving or when it struck a telephone pole.

The car wrapped itself around the pole, six feet above the ground. Mrs. Willis was thrown thru the roof and hurled a distance of 45 feet. Her husband was tossed 15 feet from the wreckage.

Mrs. Willis was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stanola, of 13721 Ninety Second ave., Orland Park. She and Wayne Willis were married last July.

Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by three sisters, Dorothy, Barbara and Judy, and two brothers, Thomas and Joseph, all of Orland Park.

The inquest has been recessed until the husband recovers sufficiently to testify.

Mokena Will Maintain Old Tile Lines to Serve as Storm Sewers

When Mokena's sewer system is put into operation this spring the system of drain tiles now in use to carry off storm water will be maintained by the village.

Such assurance was given at the regular meeting of the village board Tuesday night when the question was raised by Raymond Bisgrove, a Mokena building contractor.

Bisgrove was concerned because there had been talk—but not by village officials—that when the new sanitary sewers are in service the old tile system would be abandoned.

Under state law storm water is not to be carried in sanitary sewers. The old tile drains, it was pointed out, can carry off a lot of surface water when relieved of the flow of septic tank seepage and sewage which they are now burdened.

Bisgrove also asked the board to have the tile line checked that starts at St. John's church and runs north. Bisgrove resides on Walsh Lane. Until this year he has not been bothered with water backing into his basement. He believed the situation has arisen because two elbows were inserted in the drainage line to carry the tiles around a new house that was built a couple of blocks to the north of his property.

Village officials say they believe the elbows are not to blame but that the line is blocked in the vicinity of Parker street. The village will have it opened.

Robert Hamilton, village engineer, reported that with seasonable weather the sewage treatment plant can be completed in 10 days. There are still some eight or 10 laterals to install and the new system will then be ready it was said.

Eighteen water users have been listed as delinquent and 10 day notices are going out, informing them that the water will be shut off if the bills are not paid. There is also a $1 fee for shutting off the water and another fee of $1 to turn it on again.

Lincoln-Way Band Boosters Selling Decals

The Lincoln-Way Band Boosters have announced that the 1959 auto decals are in the mail. These decals are an annual fund raising project of the Boosters, to purchase additional equipment and uniforms for the band.

The decals, again this year, are in the shape of the state of Illinois. The colors, red and black, are those of the Lincoln-Way high school. Each decal is serially numbered and registered in the name of the resident. This could be an important factor in case of a wrecked or stolen car. It also would be identification as to

SMOKE BOMBS

Four young boys at Frankfort were picked up by Police Chief Frank Simon this week for exploding bottle caps filled with match heads in four buildings in the village. They cause considerable smoke and also generate considerable heat. If set off in proximity with combustible material they could start fires, it was stated. The boys were turned over to their parents for disciplinary action.

Anyone who fails to receive a sticker thru the mail and desires one, may obtain same by contacting any band booster or member of the Lincoln-Way band. This project was very successful last year and it is hoped that the band will receive your continued support again this year.

FIRE DESTROYS HOG BARN on the Andrew Rafacz and Sons farm at 151st and 88th ave. about 7 a. m. Wednesday morning. There were some 800 hogs in the structure and it was believed approximately 100 perished. The structure, about 40 feet wide and 185 feet long, was destroyed. No estimate has been made yet of the loss. The backfire from a tractor that was being used to scrape the concrete feeding platform on one side of the barn was blamed for the blaze. A draft carried the flame to the roof and in a matter of minutes the whole structure was on fire. Firemen from Orland Park, Tinley Park and Palos Park battled the blaze and prevented it from spreading to nearby buildings. (Marvin Smith photo)

A pot luck supper was enjoyed by a large group of members and friends of the Ann Rutledge Parent-Teacher association at the meeting Feb. 9.

Calvert Heath Jr. presided and read the PTA prayer.

A cake, appropriately decorated for each month of the year was served by hostesses, with Mrs. James Dixon, chairman, of the fifth grade mothers.

The attendance award was won by Lloyd Alton's room.

The nominating committee submitted the following slate of officers for the year: Mrs. Charles Jones, president; Mrs. Donald Scates, vice president; Mrs. Garry Vaughn, secretary, and Mrs. John Tyler, treasurer.

George Kaehler, Council candidate, reported on the Founder's Day banquet in Manhattan.

The program, presented by Mrs. Robert Wheeler, chairman, gave the history of the school. Jay Bissell was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. George Walker, the school's first teacher, was not able to be present. She retired in 1949 and still resides with her husband in Lincoln Estates.

Mrs. William Davidson, who later joined Mrs. Walker and who now teaches fifth and sixth grades was present and related special events at the school from 1932 to 1946.

The following past presidents each gave highlights of events during their term of office: Mrs. Jay Bissell, 1947-48; Robert Wheeler spoke for Mrs. Donna Carter, 1948-50; Mrs. Clinton Edmonson, 1950-51; Jay Bissell, 1951-53; Mrs. George Kaehler, 1953-54; Mrs. Paul Kluth, 1954-55; Mrs. James Dixon, 1955-56; Mrs. Donald Ball, 1956-57; Mrs. Walter Neidringhaus, 1957-58; Calvert Heath Jr., the present president, concluded the program.

Even though the weather was unfavorable, there was an excellent turnout of mothers, fathers and teachers for the regular monthly meeting of the Orland Park PTA Wednesday evening, Feb. 4, with Mrs. Gordon Bendix presiding.

A nominating committee of Mrs. Hans Bader, Mrs. Louis Wydeveld and Mrs. Anne Loving was appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year. They will make their report at the March meeting.

Mrs. Eugene Paschall reported on the hot lunch program. The PTA will sponsor a father-son basketball game and family fun night Saturday evening April 4, in the school auditorium to raise funds for equipment to help inaugurate a hot lunch cafeteria at the school.

Mrs. Paschall and her committee are working out several ideas for this big event and a number of mothers and dads have volunteered to assist. Mrs. Elmer Libner urged everyone to support this project as it will mean tasty and balanced hot lunches for children at a nominal fee.

Mrs. Franklin Loebe, program chairman, presented a very enjoyable film about the St. Lawrence Seaway project, through the courtesy of the Patten-Caterpillar Company. The picture was in sound and color and gave a complete explanation about the wonderful work being done to complete the Eighth Sea. Edward Fisher, an 8th grade student, operated the film on the projector.

The third grade room won the award for having the most parents present.

A social hour followed the meeting, with cake and coffee being served by the third grade room mothers.

The following list of accomplishments thru the efforts of the Home Owners Association was cited by the president at the Feb. 10 meeting held in the home of Art Aiello: Paid the cost of erecting street signs. Erected traffic signs, bus shelter for school children mail boxes, and mail delivery. Also collection of garbage, landscaping, new roads, signs to the community than to take the kink out of Kansas street. In answer to the point that straightening the street would provide more parking space, it was figured out that it would accommodate about 13 cars. Morrison said arrangements could be made with the Lions club to convert the Michigan Central property now used for an ice rink into a parking lot. Later in the evening Dr. Merle Otto, representing the Lions club, gave the board a letter from that organization to the effect that if the village would provide a rink in the park the Lions would maintain it and the village could use the present rink for parking.

The mayor said that he hoped such a program could be worked out for the sake of the business people, but that Bauch would not accept it as an alternative to straightening the street.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhaugen said that plans for the firehouse were almost completed and would be ready by the time of the next board meeting. It was estimated the addition may cost around $8,500.

Morrison said the firemen would have a delegation at the next meeting for further discussion and they left.

The board then discussed plans for the proposed sewer system with Robert Hamilton, the engineer, and by the next meeting he expects to have preliminary plans ready and an estimate of costs so that a referendum on a general obligation bond issue to help finance the improvements can be held in April.

In the meantime Albert H. Krusemark, village attorney, who had not been present when the meeting began had arrived and Mayor Sangmeister asked if the village was bound to go thru with the condemnation proceedings. He explained that he was not attempting to dodge the agreement with Bauch but the fire men had raised the question.

Krusemark said the case was on call in the circuit court and probably would be reached in April. Krusemark added that if the jury fixed the value of the property at a figure that could be paid out of the general corporate fund the board could do that. If the figure was too large then a bond issue would be necessary and if the people voted against it that would close the matter for the time being.

The board's records show on April 20, 1958, the trustees had adopted a resolution to acquire the Mitchell property.

Krusemark pointed out that the village was under a moral obligation to carry out its part of the agreement if it is possible to do so, even if hundreds of citizens petitioned otherwise. He added that it was his guess that the jury would fix the price some place between that of the appraisers, $7,500 and the $17,500 asked by the owner.

It was while the clerk was looking thru the records for the resolution that Mr. Bauch arose and said if it wasn't readily available he had a copy in his pocket.

"I remember when you passed it," he said. "That was when I came to the board and asked how you would like to trade a street for a match factory."

The mayor and Trustee Wayne DePorto said they recalled his visit but not that he phrased the proposition as a trade. The way they remember, it was strictly cold turkey, straighten the street or no match factory.

location of power line towers changed, and improved drainage.

The Association has also been responsible for regulations and building codes to raise the standards of the community.

A social and welcoming committee introduces new members at meetings and plans social functions.

Committee chairmen appointed at the meeting are Mrs. Mathew McBride, social and welcoming committee; Mrs. Robert Zadesty, beautification and Robert Anderson, road committee.

Mrs. Milton Westlund extends her thanks to the mothers who collected for the March of Dimes campaign. The ladies were Mesdames Aiello, Karre, Militello, Eckel, Bell and Westlund after a cold walk thru the Woods the mothers met at the home of Mrs. Westlund for coffee and whipped cream cake.

A committee meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Anderson Feb. 9 in connection with the Parent Teacher Association of the Orland Park grade school. Mrs. Ketter, room mothers chairman, of Orland Park and Mrs. John Nelson of Laguna Woods, discussed plans for the Spring Hop to be given during the month of May.

Every year the 7th grade students give the 8th grade graduating class a dinner and dance.

Mrs. Roy Benson who heads the 7th grade room mothers committee was unable to attend the meeting. Plans were also made for refreshments served in the 7th grade classroom Friday for the Valentine party. Cupcakes and coke were served to the class of 42 students.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Eckel entertained guests Sunday at a combined birthday party for Mr. Eckel and son Rickey, Rick was celebrating his 12th birthday.

Guests were Mr. Eckel's brother Allen Eckel who attends the University in Champaign, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eckel, Mr. and Mrs. John Wendling of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eckel, and son Douglas of LaGrange. The Eckels will be moving to St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. H. G. (Pete) Niebrugge is chairman of the Heart Fund drive. Mrs. William Snedden will assist her.

Mrs. William Donohue returned home from Billings hospital Thursday after undergoing a series of tests which lasted four days. Mrs. Al Karre and Mrs. H. L. Woodbury took turns staying with the children during the day.

to the village and the business people of the village that straightening the street is a bargain for the community, regardless of what it costs.

Bauch said one of the reasons he wants the street straightened is that the house "is an eyesore."

Kansas street dead ends at the street in question. There is a bend by which traffic reaches White street but this is on railroad property. It is said that this piece of property has been used as a street for the past 50 years or so and some contend that this long use gives the village possession.

Some have pointed out to Mr. Bauch that many communities now are putting bends in streets to slow traffic but Mr. Bauch isn't interested in such theories. He believes the street will look better straight and straight is the way he wants it.

Builders Would Operate Own Water Service

(CNS)—Plans for 220 homes on 140 acres 1½ miles south-east of Orland Park were reported at a hearing before the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The Fernway Utility Company, Inc. is seeking a franchise to construct and operate sewer and water facilities for the subdivision.

Paul M. Smith Jr., attorney for the utility, said the developer hopes to start construction next month on the first model home. The residences will sell for about $15,000, Smith said.

ICC Examiner Gordon Cavanaugh continued the hearing to March 6. The utility is waiting for necessary permits from the state water board and the Metropolitan Sanitary District. The utility is to file its proposed rates and regulations at the next meeting.

Charles D. Tower, consulting engineer, said sewage and water facilities in Tinley Park and Orland Park, the nearest communities, are inadequate to serve the new subdivision.

Tower said the utility eventually plans to erect a sewage treatment plant but that an oxidation pond will be utilized from the start. The utility hasn't presented any cost figures yet.

Braves Beat Reavis to Take Over Third Place Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

Bremen Sharpshooters Hit 45% Of Floor Shots to Triumph 69-61

Good shooting Bremen took over undisputed possession of third place in the SWS by beating the Reavis Rams 69-61. This the Braves did while Carl Sandburg was idle.

It was the fifth straight conference conquest. After losing four of its first five contests the Braves have been unbeatable. In the last three weeks they have overcome three foes who had beaten them in the early season.

This is sweet revenge! Friday they will be aiming to make it the sweetest cup of revenge by upsetting the powerful Rich Rocket at Park Forest. It appears that the Braves have drank of that cup—well, all they are going to for this season.

Bremen got a well balanced scoring attack from his rangy Redmen. Possibly the best of the season with five men over the 10 mark.

Jim Mifflin continued his torrid rebounding and Jerome Randle El, springy short man, added his total of rebounds. Together these men were good for 24 of Bremen 38. Reavis garnered only 20.

As usual, the Braves were hot from the floor, shooting a good 45%; scoring on 25 of 54 shot attempts. They are becoming far more consistent as the season progresses in accuracy from the floor.

A surprise was Jim Randolph's 11 points. Jim has shown to advantage at times thru the season and Friday night turned out to be a good one for him.

Bremen's scoring trio were tops with Jim Man-naioni netting 17, Bob Rodger scoring 15, and then Mifflin close behind with 14.

Reavis press seemed to bother the Redmen at times, but not enough to stop its torrid shooting.

Rams Ken Nataie and Bob LeMonier, who finished the game with 17 and 13 points respectively, did most of their scoring in a final quarter surge, that was too no avail. The Braves had a 17 point margin when they began their basket barrage.

The Rams hit on only 31% of its shots. They did in fact get away many field goal attempts, but too many went other places.

Quarter one was close with Bremen on top by 12-10. Then the Braves found the range, solved the press and started to hit the nets. At the half it was 31-22.

Bremen continued to build its lead, until the final burst by Nataie and LeMonier in the closing minutes. The last gap was exciting but futile.

The youthful Redmen clinched the SW Suburban title with a 53-31 nod in the lifter. It also ran the unbeaten string of coach Emil Lussow's lads to 17. Rich Norbut led the Braves with 18 points.

Summary:
BREMEN (69)
Mifflin 5-4-14; Rodger 5-5-15; Przybyla 1-0-2; Randolph 5-1-11; Randle El 4-2-10; Mannaioni 5-7-17.
REAVIS (61)
Jack 0-0-0; Sokolowsky 2-1-5; Nataie 8-1-17; Piguish 1-2-4; LeMonier 6-1-13; Jim Sokolowsky 3-2-8; Vost 4-1-9; Mulack 0-0-0; Zak 1-0-2; Myzsa 1-1-3.

"Oak Lawn was just the better team. They are in second place in the SW Suburban. That is high for this conference," explained Joe Kruzich, basketball coach for Lincoln-Way.

"Those third quarters have been haunting us lately," he concluded.

The Spartan notched its seventh league win of the season with a spectacular 23-3, third quarter blitz, that bowled over the Lincoln-Way Knights, 56-45.

That third period wasn't all of the fireworks. Lincoln-Way came storming back with a powerful bid in final quarter, winning it by a 21-11, score.

Oak Lawn remains in second place, 1½ games ahead of Bremen and Lincoln-Way is still victorious in the SWS. Jerry Haehnlein was the champion spark plug for Kruzich's charging Knights. Jerry scored a total of 16 points, his personal high for the year, on six baskets and four charity tosses.

In addition to this, he was good for six assists that netted 6 more field goals for the L-W attack. Not bad for a boy Haehnlein's size. His shooting was a respectable 35%, 6 of 16.

George Rühle, on a bit of a rebound famine in recent games, found himself against the tall men from Oak Lawn as he captured 12 loose balls from off the boards.

Haehnlein helped to make the contest close.

Hank DeVries, and Borkowski were the most powerful Spartans with 13 and 15 points respectively. Many of the Oak Lawn men figured in the total scoring picture.

Oak Lawn moved away to a quick 17-11 lead, but the Knights came back with a tight knit defense; holding the Spartan to 0 from the field, and closing the gap by the half to 22-21. Things looked mighty interesting here.

However, the recent pattern of second half collapse revealed itself again for the Knights and Oak Lawn skirted the defense and beat a swishing tune on the net. That was the game.

The Knights surge in the final period was heartening, but rather belated.

Oak Lawn had it easy on the boards. They took off 35 rebounds to the L-Way total of 24.

Both teams shot about 30%. The Spartans had 20 of 61 shots go in for 33 and the Knights had 16 of 53 drop through for an even 30. This was done with a brilliant final quarter splurge.

L-Way frosh soph easily swept aside the young Spartans by a 60-27, score. Allen Waldvogel had 18 points.

Spartans Just Too Good, Says L-W Cage Coach Non-Conference Foes Down Eagles

Carl Sandburg ran into two non conference foes over the week-end and found this was also a rocky road.

They slipped into fourth place in the SWS as Bremen won and moved into third. Peotone stopped the Eagles with a fabulous display of shooting, 52% to be exact. The score was, 77-69.

"They were just hot. They had weak spots, but when they got the ball they put it through the hoop," winced coach Bill Adams of Sandburg.

"Phil Yurtis is the most improved ball player on our club. Some of our boys have been below par in the last couple of games, but Yurtis has been coming on."

Yurtis scored 19 in the Peotone game.

Jerry McBride is still the big story—these days—at the Orland Park school. McBride hit for 9 baskets and 2 charity tosses for 20 points.

Saturday evening, Thornton Fractional defeated Carl Sandburg in a final quarter spurt of 16-8, for the final decision of, 46-41.

Both teams gave Adams the headache with such exacting foul shooting. "The best I've ever seen," bemoaned Adams.

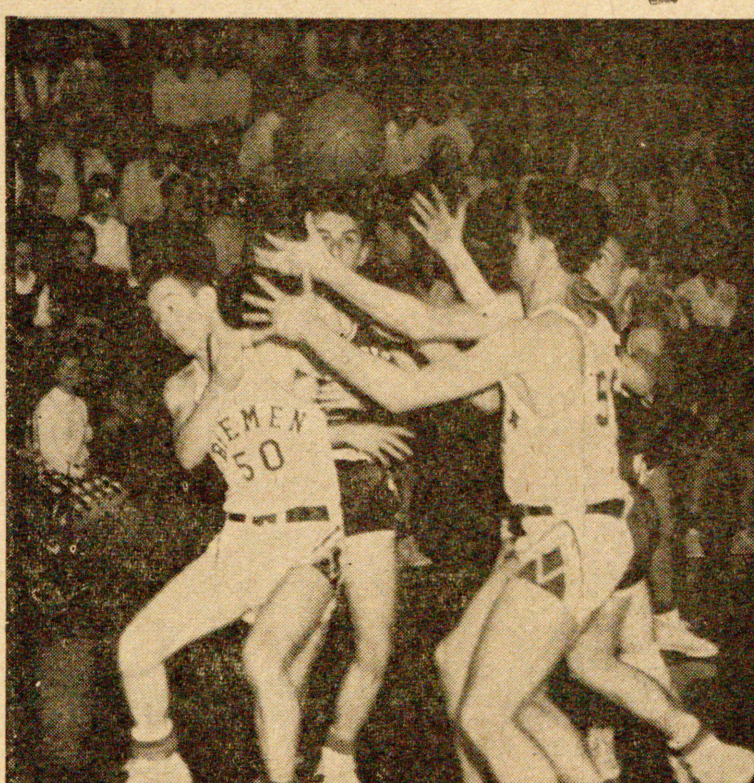

Peotone hit on 25 of 29 foul shots. Fractional scored on 12 of 14 fouls in the Saturday evening game.

McBride was the big Eagle with 16 points again on Saturday. No one else could seem to find the range.

Baker of Peotone was a thorn in the Eagle wing with 31 points on the Friday evening racing game.

Dick Barry had a fantastic first quarter against Peotone with 5 for 5 efforts from near the top of the free throw circle. Dick ended the game with a total of 16, his best this year.

Sandburg frosh soph beat Peotone by a 67-50 count and then lost to Fractional by a 60-51 score.

NOT ME—YOU HANDLE IT, Bob Rodger (No. 50) would appear to be saying to his Bremen teammate in the foreground John Przybyla, and the latter—who owns two of the arms stretching for the ball—will do just that unless one of those Reavis men barging in pushes the ball over into another cluster of arms and legs. Backwood Trails

If you are planning on spending your vacation this summer at a resort where your wife will have a complete vacation too, you will stay at an American plan resort. There she will not have to cook meals, make beds or clean house.

It will be a complete, restful vacation for her as well as the rest of the family. One of the outstanding American plan resorts in upper Wisconsin is "Moody's Camp". It has been in business for 34 years in an ideal location.

The resort lies 19 miles northeast of Hayward and six miles north from route 77 at the end of the road. It is bordered on the north and east by over a million acres of national forest plus 4,600 acres belonging to a private club for which the resort is manager.

Guests are permitted to fish the eight private lakes that are located there.

Moody's Camp itself owns 58 acres with frontage on three lakes: Big Spider, Mud and North. These lakes are panfish lakes, not musky lakes. Bass, perch, crappies and bluegill are plentiful throughout the lakes. The resort consists of 12 cabins and a main lodge. They are log construction, modern and heated with propane.

Delicious home-cooked meals are served at all times. At the resort guides and baby sitters

Strange things are happening in the selection of teams for the various state play-off beginnings.

Imagine Lincoln-Way is picked as fifth for the Joliet sectional. Yet, at the same tournament Joliet Catholic is seeded seventh. You said it, somebody is having trouble—and in all sorts of ways.

Joliet Catholic has beaten Joliet, who is seeded second in the elimination, and they have also beaten Lincoln-Way by a good margin.

We are glad to see Lincoln-Way rated that high, but this ranking smells of something lousy and not Lincoln-Way wins. The Knights are rated ahead of such teams as Crete-Monee and Joliet Catholic and they have won only two games—both from Lemont.

Bloom is rated first—that is to be expected. Certainly, Lockport who has lost only to Bloom and Thornton—and the Porters have not been a soft touch for either Bloom or Thornton—just might rate ahead of Joliet.

However, the real fiasco is the fact of rating Lincoln-Way up in the fifth spot.

Who chooses these teams? The coaches! Coaches are to be men of rather expert knowledge concerning basketball ability and it seems, from this league, that these men are not of accidental vision during the season. Lincoln-Way has not had a rating until the tourney.

Of course, on the seeding plan this then places Bloom vs. Lincoln-Way and Joliet vs. Crete-Monee. I guess that a final between Joliet and Bloom would draw the biggest crowd and the most money. Could this be the short vision that was momentarily exhibited by the usually sharp coaches.

Coach Joe Kruzich placed his team as number seven in the tourney. So, someone had to place Lincoln-Way as high as first or second. This, becomes the height of absurdity. In other words—this is a bit of seedy juggling by a group of educated—you judge them—men.

Win at price—but make sure that it is green in nature—with the picture of famous or infamous Americans also in green hue. Strange these things.

Pat Clayton, 7231 W. 135th St., won angling recognition in the 24th annual Metropolitan Miami fishing tournament where he caught four kingfish in the all tackle division.

His fish were not weighed for competition for prizes or trophies but will be recorded on the front page of his personalized copy of the attractive highly illustrated Year Book of South Florida Fishing.

Rich will take the Bremen Braves by 9 points at Park Forest on Friday evening... Sandburg will not be too close to Oak Lawn... DeVries and company by at least 10 points... Saturday should be different for Sandburg... Reavis will take the Knights in a close game, maybe as many as 5 points... Cheerio!

Methodists Finish Church League Basketball Year Without a Loss

The Tinley Park Methodist recorded the first unbeaten season in the Tinley Church Loop by scoring a lopsided, 88-52, decision over Zion Lutheran Tuesday evening at the Central school.

St. George, who has clinched second place, beat Trinity Lutheran, the league most improved team, in a thrilling, 51-50, contest in the evening double header.

With four men scoring in the double figures the Methodist roared to a blistering first half lead of 42-15. The contest was decided here. Against the Methodist second string the Lutherans made some comeback, but it was not nearly enough.

Wes Landau (22), Tom Jeffers (21), Ken Webster (14), and Elmer Ginther (13) were the four big men for the Methodist on this evening.

Wally Eggert, diminutive, high scoring ace of Zion was the game's leading point getter with a 12 point final period that helped him to reach a mark of 27. A fine job.

St. George pulled out a close contest with Trinity Lutheran on three clutch foul shots by Jeffords in the closing moments.

Ron Gallina, league's leading scorer, hit on 18 points—twelve of these in the third quarter, when St. George pulled out into the lead.

The Catholics moved out and on with a 17-13 first quarter lead, but the Trinity club, minus, high scoring Hank Meyer, fought back to a half time lead of 24-23.

St. George, with red hot Gallina hitting, bounced back into a 40-38 margin. Then Jeffords hit his three fouls for the one point ver dict.

The season ends next week with Zion vs. St. George and the Nazarenes meeting Trinity Lutheran in a battle for third place. Both Trinity and the Nazarenes are tied for the third spot in the Tinley league. This will be decided at 7:00 pm. Game Tuesday evening at the Central school.

Oak Lawn Wins Wrestling Crown

Carl Sandburg Grapplers Wind Up Third in SW Conference Tourney

Spartans have always been tough.

They were tough at Sparta; they were tough at Athens; and they were tough at the Pass.

The only place that the Spartans were not world beaters was on the sea.

Reavis Rams are a landlubber. Oak Lawn Spartans found the butting Ram, difficult but beatable.

Before a good crowd, at Rich high school in Park Forest, the Oak Lawners whipped Reavis, defending and favored by a score of 97-83. This brought the first SW Suburban wrestling crown to the Spartans school.

Carl Sandburg of Orland Park finished third, but some distance back of the winners. Coach Joe Devine's boys came home with two individual winners and a total of 52 points.

Rich finished fourth, a few points ahead of Bremen. Evergreen Park was in sixth place—just six points ahead of Lincoln-Way of New Lenox, who finished last.

Bremen had a good chance to close the gap in the heavy weight finale, but Rich Snyder dropped an overtime decision to Lehrfeld of Rich, 3-2.

Both boys appeared to be tired after the afternoon match. Snyder had been very tough in beating the third place winner in the afternoon, Vanderwagon of Oak Lawn.

Ron Risner and Dave Gibson won crowns for the Eagles. Risner took 103 lb. and Gibson the 127. Chatlosh finished second to Proskey of Reavis.

Bremen had three men who placed second in the conference scramble.

Jim Gruhn was second in the 112 lb. go. Luke Kent lost to Gibson, 2-1, in the 127 pound match. Snyder dropped the close verdict in the finale.

Bill Zelko was the only Lincoln-Way wrestler to finish above third. Bill came in second, losing to Schuler of Reavis in the 154 pound area.

Coach John Fitzgerald of Reavis claimed, "They beat us fair and square. When they met us they beat us. They were just tougher and we must admit it."

Fitzgerald had his team rush to the center mat at the conclusion of the Snyder-Lehrfeld match, and give the winning Spartans a cheer.

Oak Lawn finished the regular dual match meets of the SW Suburban season undefeated—defeating the Rams in a dual meet just prior to the tournament at Rich by 7 points.

This victory gave the Spartans confidence and helped inspire the other teams to the fact that Reavis could be taken.

Reavis didn't give up without a struggle. The margin of victory was not overwhelming but convincing.

Reavis has been the perennial champ of the SW. In fact it is a strange year when they haven't won or were tied. This is the strange year. The only such of its kind.

Joe Devine was happy over the teams third place finish. The Eagles beat out Rich for third by 6 points. "I was surprised over Roger Chatlosh's loss to Reavis; and I don't really think that Roger would lose like that again."

"This was Roger's third year as the second place finisher in the SW Suburban. We were hoping that this would be his championship year."

In the 95 pound class, Weiss of Oak Lawn took third place for the Spartans by beating Bartlett of Evergreen Park. These were the first three points for the winners. Sandburg's cinderella boy came through in the finals of the 103 lb. class. Ron Risner. Risner is a junior and is in his first year of competition. Known as "spider" to his fellow team mates; he certainly proved to weave a sure web.

Ron defeated Heniff of Evergreen Park, 5-1, in the semi-finals. Heniff had beaten Risner in the regular season, 5-3. This was revenge!

Nicholson of the victorious Spartans was no match for Ron. Risner after an early struggle, easily took him, 8-4. He became the first of two Sandburg champs.

Heniff of Evergreen Park came in third in the tournament.

Bremen Braves had good men in the finals and were nosed out in every case. Conference champs of past years were beaten in close, crucial matches.

Jim Gruhn, in the 112 lb.

VERN WHITNEY and his Oak Lawn SW, Suburban Conference champs show the winners trophy and the placards indicating first place finishes. (Marvin Smith photo)

Gibson, last year, won the 120 lb. title at the SW Suburban tournament.

Lorenz of Oak Lawn kept the Spartan point total increasing as he scored a 5-0 victory over Baldwin of Reavis for third. This was sort of the pattern. The Spartans were batting down the Rams at every opportunity.

Schultz of Reavis built up a convincing margin of 4-0 over

Oaks Take Dual Match From Reavis Matmen

Oak Lawn made a clean sweep of things in the SWS by beating Reavis high wrestlers in a dual match Friday, February 6.

Reavis won the frosh-soph title with one loss. Evergreen Park and Oak Lawn tied for second with 4-2 marks.

Oak Lawn was unbeaten for the varsity win.

Bremen, Lincoln-Way, Sandburg and Rich finished the dual season with identical records of 2 wins and four losses in SW Suburban competition.

place in this effort. Zelko gave a game and gallant effort before succumbing to one of the powerful Rams.

The upset of the tournament came in the afternoon semi-finals as Evans of Oak Lawn, trailing by a good margin, pinned George O'Donnell of Reavis, last year's 165 lb. state champ, at 1:45 of the third period.

It was this stunning upset that really began to turn the tide for Oak Lawn.

Hardy of Rich finally won the championship by beating Evans, 3-2. O'Donnell placed third.

Huston pulled the only other pin of the championship round in the tourney by pinning Clendenning of Rich.

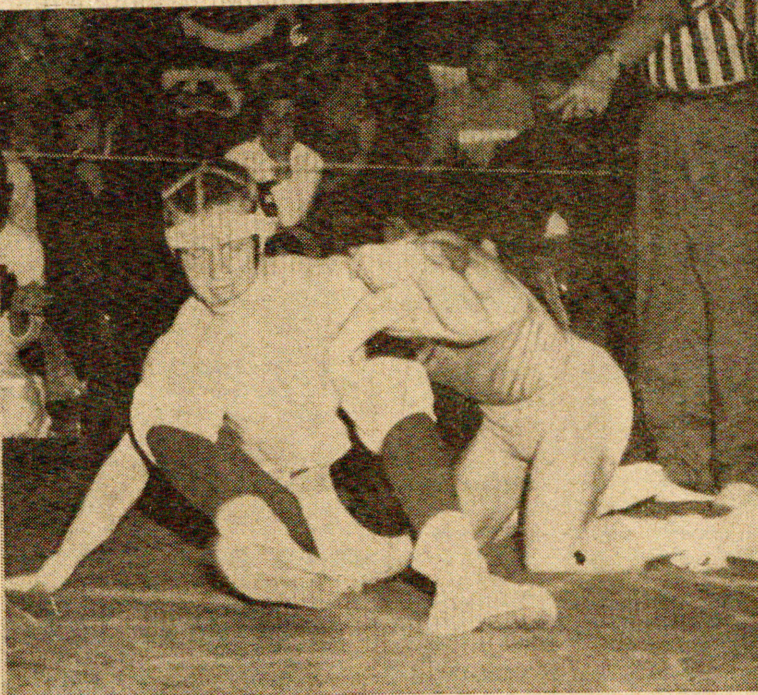

Early in the day, he had beat on highly regarded, Al Jacklich of Sandburg by a 5-1 margin.

Huston was the 175 pound champ.

Rich Snyder of Bremen had been a "bull" in the early rounds, recording pins over DeHart of Lincoln-Way and Vanderwagon of Oak Lawn.

However, he seemed slowed down for the finals and dropped an overtime decision to Lehrfeld of Rich, 3-2.

Vanderwagon beat Freddie Heiy of Sandburg for third place, 5-2.

bracket, became the victim of a rugged, close match with Frank Coniglio, first place winner for the Oak Lawn club. The Coniglio boys were good for 20 points for Vern Whitney's lads.

Gruhn had a few good opportunities to ice the match, but Coniglio pulled out the win with a brilliant finish.

Nielsen of Reavis captured third place with a win over Harrison of Evergreen Park.

Another Coniglio, T., was next with Fritz of Reavis. Action at 120 lb. The leg work of both of these wrestlers was something to behold. Both were outstanding for the unusual strength in the underpins. Coniglio took Fritz.

Coniglio had beaten Tom Miller of Sandburg in the semi final by an 11-7 score. In a rough and tumble match, First Miller was ahead, but Coniglio surged to the fore, at the end, for the victory.

Miller took third with a win over McDonald of Rich, 4-2.

Dave Gibson, Sandburg and Luke Kent of Bremen locked up in an exciting match for the 127 lb. title. Dave notched his 21 successive win as he beat Kent, 2-1. Kent was last year's champ.

Bulow of Oak Lawn to win the 133 pound crown. It was one of the rare occasions when a Spartan lost to a Ram.

Engel of Evergreen Park took third as Chard of Bremen had to forfeit because of illness.

Again Oak Lawn won the championship. This time it was the 138 lb. class. Beckett easily out wrestled Kasper of Evergreen Park with an 8-1 decision.

Kallstrom, Sandburg sophomore, had to forfeit due to an injury to Rees of Reavis. The injury occurred in a match with Beckett.

Then came the shocking match of the night, which yielded the only pin. Proskey of Reavis pinned Roger Chatlosh of Carl Sandburg. The Eagle was butted early by the Reavis Rams. Proskey found an opening and used his powerful arm strength to pin Chatlosh.

Bill Rogers of Lincoln-Way netted the Knights first points, four in all, by defeating Larry Grossbacher of Bremen, 7-1 for third at 165 lbs.

Schuler of Reavis beat Bill Zelko of Lincoln-Way by a 4-1 final in the 154 lb. division. Byrne of Oak Lawn beat Jerkatis of Bremen for third

Weights and Mat Talk

By DEAN DALLAS, Sports Editor

High school wrestling is nothing akin to the "grunt and groaner" of the TV screen. It is far more exciting for there is real skill involved in these contests.

The melodramatic slams, bone-crushing fiascos of the professional circuit are a joyful absentee and were at the SW Suburban Wrestling tournament held at Rich last Saturday.

As a spectator sport wrestling holds the appeal of empathy far more than any other sport. You lean with the man trying for the pin, and you resist for the man on the mat. You grimace with the boy who has his leg twisted and you are glad for the soft mat when a head is pushed hard into it.

Coch Vern Whitney, diminutive coach of Oak Lawn's champion wrestlers, was more excited than his lads—at least it seemed that way. Vern is the first man to guide his team to a decisive SW win over John Fitzgerald and his Reavis Wrestling Rams.

It is no small task to take Reavis.

Sandburg, Bremen and Lincoln-Way can prove their worth in any other circuit. They both won consistently out of the SW conference. Sandburg scored two quad wins over the season.

Yet, Sandburg has to scratch to finish third in the meet and the other two are considerably further behind.

The SW Suburban wrestling is some of the best in the state. Some of these boys who won the SW crown will wear the state crown.

Sandburg is favored in the sectional tournament to be held at the Orland Park School on Thursday evening and concluded on Saturday. Most of the schools entered are not from the SW Suburban conference.

Coaches Hutsell of Bremen and Larsen of Lincoln-Way were both star wrestlers in high school. Hutsell was state champ from Blue Island. Larsen starred at Danville, Ill.

Tournament team points are figured on this basis: first place 10; second place 7; third place 4; fourth place 2; fall 1; default, 1; forfeit 1; advancement 1.

Individual points were scored in this fashion: take down 2; escape 1; reversal 2; near fall 3; predicament 1; time advantage 1. Take down, which is most common scoring effort, in wrestling is wherever a contestant brings his opponent to the mat and gains control while the supporting points of either wrestler are within the wrestling area.

The hosts were not very kind to scribes at this SW Suburban tournament—that is those who wandered about the floor. I guess we were considered spectators. Is a writer anything else? No letters, please!

Coaches have much more freedom to move in a wrestling match. Each is given a chair to sit on, but the referee doesn't call a technical foul—if the coach races to the edge of the mat and yells at the said official or at his contestant.

Some basketball coaches would enjoy the wrestling game. No technical foul.

Rams Butt Mustangs To Win Frosh-Soph Mat Title Reavis Sprouts Finish on Top in Annual Wrestling Tourney at Rich

By VERN FEIN

In the annual SWS frosh-soph wrestling tournament at Rich on Thursday and Saturday, the Reavis Rams, with 93 total points, won top honors, as usual. Far behind with a total of 62, was the hard kicking Mustang of Evergreen Park.

Bremen raced into a close third place finish with 58 points. The Mustang's grabbed an early lead, but were almost tamed by the Redmen of Midothian, come the final match. As in the varsity, Rich kept Bremen from a higher finish in the heavyweight division.

Johnson of Rich quickly pinned "Smokey" Davenport from Bremen to prevent the Braves from a second place effort.

Lincoln-Way followed at fourth place with a total of 41 points. Oak Lawn came next, Carl Sandburg and then last was host Rich Rockets.

The Rocket is somewhat of a noisefest variety in the sport of muscle men.

Much of the Little Braves success can be attributed to the fine wins by O'Boyle at the 154-pound weight class and Ketelboeter in the 145-pound division.

These two men netted 20 points for Hutsell's third place finish.

After the Saturday afternoon semi-final round the scores were relatively the same. Bremen was in a tie for fourth place.

But Hutsell had four youthful Redmen in the finals with Grossenbacker, O'Boyle, Ketelboeter and Davenport. These three men brought back 34 of the 58 point total for the Braves.

Lincoln-Way had two in the finals, Tony Santerelli and Charvat. Santerelli was at 112-pounds and Charvat at 127-pounds.

Sandburg had Peterson at 95 and Bormet at 175.

Lincoln-Way had numerous in the third place battles and picked up numerous points by winning some of these third place attractions.

On that night, the stands were packed and all the fervor that presides at any championship was present.

To start the evening, the Frosh-Soph consolation matches took place on all three mats. Each mat was turned into a one-ring circus, providing fun and thrills for all involved.

Third place matches went in this fashion. At 95 pounds, O'Toole of Evergreen pinned Swartz and Walston of Carl Sandburg whipped Evergreen's Vincent, 6 to 0, at 103. 112 pound winner was Brown of Reavis and at 120, Migsons of Hornet from Oak Lawn, while Leska of Oak Lawn was a 3-1 victor over Hatter of Evergreen, at 165. Christiansen of Lincoln-Way pinned Dodge, at 175 pounds; and shortly after, Smith of Lincoln-Way pinned his Evergreen foe in a heavy-weight overtime.

Thus the attention focused on the white-covered mat and turned it into an arena, where multi-colored gladiators took turns wrestling.

95-lbs. In an overtime match, Peterson of Carl Sandburg nipped Larry Grossenbacker of Bremen, 3-2.

MILLER of Lincoln-Way turns his back on Chatlosh of Sandburg in the semi-final round of the tournament at Rich. Chatlosh went on to defeat Miller, 3-2. (Marvin Smith photo)

Bremen annexed third by drubbing Sandburg's Gibbons. Another Bremenite, Casey, was beaten 5-4 by Miller of Lincoln-Way at 127 pounds. Al Grutzmacher met, Lincoln-Way's Paben and the former from Bremen nipped the latter 2-0, to win third at 133 pounds. Bremen continued to dominate the trophies, as Foose pinned his 138 pound opponent from Lincoln-Way. When the 145 pound strongmen clashed, Miller of Lincoln-Way nipped Russell of Rich, 3-2. At 154, Smith from Sandburg beat 103-lbs. The champion here was Olszewski of Reavis, as he easily whipped Stewart of Rich, 5-0.

112-lbs. Evergreen's Duimovich topped Lincoln-Way's Santerelli, 6-4.

120-lbs. An upset winner was presented, when Hackell of Reavis smeared Evergreen's Engel, 7-0.

127-lbs. Oak Lawn's Bruck Medlin of Reavis, for the first place here.

133-lbs. Schuessler of Oak Lawn was forced to forfeit to Graf of Reavis.

138-lbs. Reavis again took first, when Roy won 7-5 over Evergreen's Rife.

145-lbs. Bremen's Ketelboeter nipped Sandburg's Lynch, 7-6.

154-lbs. O'Boyle won 7-5 over Kulietz of Evergreen, on a last second reversal.

165-lbs. Wittenkeller of Reavis tipped Lincoln-Way's Charvat, 2-0.

175-lbs. Reavis won again, as Drnee headed Bormet of Sand-

Dave Gibson- Star on Mat and In Classroom

Dave Gibson, who won the 138-lb. wrestling title at the SW Suburban tournament, is a small fraction from a straight A student at Carl Sandburg high school.

Dave is working in the difficult fields of science and mathematics and is doing well. Other than muscle wrestling, Dave wrestles the books.

His high school wrestling mark is an enviable one. He has a three year record of 48 wins and only six setbacks... Frank Merriwell.

He won the SWS 120-lb. crown last year.

Gibson graduates in June.

His sophomore year, in the 103-lb class he scored eight straight victories before a concussion laid him low. As a junior he had a 19-5 mark... losing to the state champ at the district meet.

Ron Risner, Sandburg novice wrestler, shocked the large crowd by coming up with the SW crown. Ron upset the tournament favorite, Heniff, of Oak Lawn in the semi-finals. Risner's scholastic average is a high B.

His fellow wrestlers have named him "Spider".

It seems that the outstanding athlete has the dual capacity to excell in the classroom as well as on the mat, field or the floor.

Ron's season mark is 16-2. Not bad for his first crack at varsity competition.

Both of these Eagles will be seeking district crowns at Sandburg on the week-end. Gibson is the more experienced of the two.

Bill Zelko, Lincoln-Way senior burg, 3-2.

Heavy-weight Johnson of Rich quickly pinned "Smokey" Davenport from Bremen.

Slogan on a church bulletin: "We believe that the task ahead of us is never as great as the Power behind us."

District Mat Meet Opens at Sandburg Today

Eight Schools Send Grapplers to The Wars With Eye on State Title

Carl Sandburg high school will be host to a district wrestling tournament this week, Feb. 19 and 21. Eight teams including the host school will vie for the top four places of the 12 weight divisions for the right to advance to the Blue Island Sectional.

Family Program To be Held by Sportsmen's Club

The New Lenox Sportsmen's club will meet tonight, Feb. 19 at 8 pm. in the Lions Den. This is annual family night. All members of the family will enjoy viewing films of Mexico, a fishing trip in the Everglades and a Walt Disney cartoon. Refreshments will be served.

Parents will hear what is being planned for young people 12 to 18 years.

The club announced that it will sponsor scholarships for some young people, children of members, for a week's training session at the State of Illinois Conservation school to be held July 12 to 17 in the 4H building at the State Fairgrounds, Springfield.

The course of study will include forestry, history of conservation, soil, field trips to the wildlife conservation area, game management and propagation, fisheries; all instruction will be by trained biologists, foresters and other technicians.

A stipulation is that the student must be a sophomore, junior or senior in high school.

The board of directors are working on a method of selecting the winners, but members are requested to submit the names of sons or daughters for consideration, with names and addresses.

Oak Lawn Favorite in Fractional District Meet

Oak Lawn, winner of the SWS meet last Saturday, will go again this week end in quest of its second straight mat tourney crown. The Spartans are the choice to win the Thornton Fractional District Wrestling meet on Friday and Saturday at Lansing, Ill. The opening round will begin at 7:00 pm. Friday, Feb. 20 at the Fractional South Gym in Lansing. The semi-finals will be run off at 1 pm. and the finals on Saturday evening at 7:00 pm.

Bremen will be vying for a position among the winners at this tourney. Fellows like Luke Kent, Jim Gruhn, and Rich Snyder, who lost in the finals of the SWS, will try to atone on this next weekend and get a position for the sectional meet at Blue Island with the winners of the Carl Sandburg district.

The Braves are not a very high choice. But should give rough competition in certain areas.

Other schools in the meet are Evergreen Park, Thornton, Twp., Thornton Fractional, host school, Blue Island, Rich Morgan Park Military and Bloom.

Athletic Director of Fractional, Robert Maxelner, suggested that Thornton, Blue Island and Bloom would supply the rough competition for the Spartans of Oak Lawn.

Sixty matches will be held on Friday evening. Instead of three mats, two mats will take the 60 matches.

Frank Concialdi and Bill Mann are the referees who have been assigned by the state athletic commission for this tournament. They will work the entire tourney.

The winners will meet the Sandburg district winners and from there will get mighty close to a state championship match.

Conservation and Industry — Both Possible

We probably will incur the displeasure of some of the sportsmen's groups by concurring in the recommendation of the Joliet Association of Commerce that some 2,600 acres of Joliet Arsenal property along the Illinois waterway be put to industrial use.

The land in question is now being used by the state conservation department as a combination wildlife refuge and hunting preserve. There are many hunters in Will county who make use of the preserve, of course, and there are even more from Cook, DuPage and other surrounding counties.

The Joliet Association of Commerce realizes that conservation and recreation areas are necessary and it suggests that another piece of arsenal property of approximately the same size, now set aside as a private hunting grounds for officers stationed at the arsenal, be transferred to the Illinois conservation department for the same purposes as is the tract now in dispute.

The Association of Commerce offers its support to bring such a program into being. It points out that the interests of the sportsmen and conservationists would be served just as well. The new refuge site proposed, north and west of Elwood, is traversed by Jackson creek and has hilly terrain as well as low spots and there is also timber and plenty of good cover.

it is said.

This would be a happy solution of the problem. The hunters would still have a hunting area and the waterway frontage would be developed into industrial sites that would provide employment for at least 6,000 persons and bring in some $3 million a year in taxes when fully developed.

Test borings, it was pointed out, show that the land along the waterway is underlain by limestone that begins only a few feet below the surface, thus insuring good foundations for heavy industry.

The federal government paid an average of $150 an acre for the 64,000 acres purchased for the arsenal site. The Santa Fe railroad has assured the General Services Administration, a federal agency, of a bid of at least $500 an acre when the tract is put up for sale at auction March 3.

This in itself is quite unusual. Ordinarily when the government sells any of its surplus property the amount received is only a small fraction of what the government paid.

U. S. Sen. Paul Douglas has a bill in congress which would transfer the waterway site to the Illinois department of conservation. But it would seem this could be altered and the alternate site substituted. This would be the sensible course.

DIABETES

We are all familiar with the expression: "Water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink." One could say diabetes is a disease in which there is sugar everywhere but not a bit can be used.

The body's chief source of energy is the sugar derived from food. There is always a supply of sugar in the blood. The circulation carries this sugar to every part of the body and supplies energy for the work to be done by the brain, heart and all the other body organs. In addition the liver stores up a large supply of sugar to be used between meals and for emergency use when a sudden, extra energy output is needed.

The weak spot in this cycle involves a substance called insulin. Unfortunately the body

If the highways disappear this spring so trucks cannot be used to carry the mail and Washington still refuses to patronize the railroads for short hauls the postoffice department can use horses and wagons or ox carts and the public would never know the difference as far as deliveries are concerned.

And speaking of ox cart deliveries, heard a fellow on radio the other day say that a letter was sent to him from the west coast to New York City. It was sent on that plane that made the trip recently in around four hours to set a record. Two days after its arrival in New York it was delivered to the addressee. Oh well, New York's a big place and the mailman might have been a stranger there himself.

In the meantime use caution in crossing streets and avoid chuckholes. The head over which muddy water is rising may be your own.

is unable to burn or store sugar without it. When a shortage of insulin occurs, the individual becomes ill and this illness is diabetes. Sugar begins to build up in the blood since it is not being used. Eventually the blood level becomes so high that the sugar spills out in the urine.

Diabetes is usually recognized by the discovery of sugar in the urine. A blood test which measures the amount of sugar in the blood can identify an early case of diabetes even before sugar appears in the urine.

Patients with diabetes can live completely normal and fully active lives after the disease has been diagnosed and treated. The typical symptoms of diabetes are excessive appetite, excessive thirst, and excessive urine.

The body, in a sense is starving for sugar and this produces persistent hunger sensations as well as a craving for sweets. Despite the increase in appetite, the patient loses weight rapidly because the body, unable to use sugar, begins to use up its fat stores for energy. However excessive burning of fat produces a large quantity of acid, more than the body can manage. This accumulation of acid in the blood and tissues can eventually produce a serious medical situation.

The kidneys require a great deal of water to carry away the large amounts of sugar in the blood. Hence the patient begins to pass increasing quantities of urine. This large loss of water in turn stimulates excessive thirst and the individual finds himself constantly at the water tap.

Diabetes can occur at any age and in variable degrees of severity. In the young and middle-aged, there is usually a considerable shortage of body insulin and the patient must be administered extra insulin to control the condition properly. Older people frequently develop only a mild insulin shortage. Under these circumstances, a special diet program can be prescribed which demands less insulin and such patients may never need to take insulin if the diets are followed.

Insulin is destroyed by stomach juices. Therefore when it is needed, it must be administered by injection. It is a rather simple matter for the patient to learn to do this for himself and many thousands of people have been successfully managing their own daily insulin injections. The dosage is established by the physician on the basis of the results of daily urine sugar tests and occasional blood sugar analyses.

Why people develop diabetes remains, for the most part, a mystery. There seems to be some tendency for it to run in families. Being overweight is known to increase body insulin demands and can produce mild diabetes that will correct itself simply by the loss of the extra weight.

This should be quite a spring for garages and tire dealers.

By the time the ice and snow melts off and the frost comes out of the ground and pavements with resultant heaving and disintegration we should have one of the champion collections of chuckholes to be found in the country.

Streets and highways are showing the effects of winter already. Large holes are developing on state and federal highways, county and township roads, and city and village streets.

They can't be repaired now. And before they can be closed they will get larger.

And from the size of some of them now one wonders if the holes will not take over the entire roads and streets by the time spring comes 'round with or without rustling shade.

That's when owners of the small foreign cars will have an advantage over the larger autos. They can run on the sidewalks.

In the meantime tire dealers and garages should prosper thru replacing broken tires and springs.

By the time summer arrives car dealers also should be able to get into the act—selling new cars to replace the old ones lost down holes in the roads.

In talking of spring, summer and road repairs this writer may be unduly optimistic. Spring may not arrive. It frequently doesn't in these latitudes. We usually have some summer and the roads could be repaired then if any are left. But the question of funds rears its ugly head.

Counties, towns and municipalities probably will be able to get a little money together to fix up streets and roads. But what of the state and federal governments?

The state and federal highway departments are planning to spend so much money on super-duper highways that they will probably will not have any left for ordinary highways that serve the smaller communities.

We'll be lucky if there is enough left of U.S. 30, for example, to repair and replacement doesn't seem to be in the cards.

And if the CTA—which operates the public transportation facilities of Chicago—is successful in getting a $31.5 million dollar subsidy from highway user tax revenues—we might have to go back to mud roads and horses.

But there is a bright spot in the picture. If we lose our highways we should bet better mail service. With no highways the postoffice department would have to turn to the trains again to carry mail.

Remember when the trains carried mail between Joliet and Chicago? A letter from Mokena to Tinley Park would be delivered the same day it was sent, likewise to Chicago.

Then someone at Washington decided to use trucks instead of trains. It has never been decided whether the originator of the idea was a mental giant with an IQ of minus 15 or someone with a monetary interest in some phase or phases of the trucking industry.

That's when it hit the fan. Switching to trucks has set the mail service back a hundred years.

Council Outfits City Hall With Bargain in Furniture — Bill is $50

By EVELYN VAN HORN
Sycamore 8-8921

The regular meeting of the Country Club Hills city council held on Monday, Feb. 9, at the Model house, drew a large crowd. Although the night was bad and road conditions even worse, a capacity crowd attended.

Mayor E. K. Landenberger opened the meeting with the statement that he had a surprise for the people since he had no intention of vetoing the amendment to the subdivision ordinance. He explained that there was nothing to veto since it was not an amendment but simply a motion and that a motion cannot be vetoed. The council then returned to the business of the evening.

A resolution was passed that the city clerk be put on the city payroll. She will receive $1.75 per hour with a maximum of $40 a week. She will be required to keep a daily record of time spent on city business.

Alderman Gaertner reported that tentative approval had been given to the purchase of furniture for the city hall. This furniture would include a large glass topped desk for the mayor, a secretary's desk, and two other desks. Two conference tables, a chair for the city clerk, three swivel chairs, ten other chairs, desk lamps, and several floor lamps. This furniture is located at the County building among the surplus. The total price is $50.10. Several resolutions and amendments were passed. The dog control ordinance was amended to clarify the ordinance and recognize the animal control warden. An amendment was made to the city vehicle license ordinance stating that any person selling a car after vehicle license had been purchased, will be issued another for 50 cents.

A resolution was passed requiring the city clerk to prepare a summary of all action taken at city council meetings to be available to the press or other interested persons.

At the end of the regular business meeting, the council held an open meeting so those present in the audience could ask questions or present their views. Mayor Landenberger had investigated other communities as to how the Planning and Zoning Commission and Council handled the approval of zoning ordinance and in those he had talked to most of them had dual ratification. The statute states that the commission is an advisory group but this can be changed by an ordinance. After the discussion period, Alderman Gaertner called for a show of hands of those present to indicate their preference, dual ratification or Council approval. Council approval won 4 to 1.

School Board Election
At the regular school board meeting held last Monday, a resolution was passed authorizing a general election to be held on April 11. Three members of the school board are to be elected, two for full term (3 years) and one for a one year term.

A resolution was passed out lining two voting districts. One would be in Bremen township with the polling place at the Thomas Lane school, 17940 Baker; and the other in Rich township with the polling place at the Baker school, 18511 Baker ave.

The board also authorized a referendum to extend the school year to give a few extra days so the suspension of a school day for any reason would automatically be taken care of without changing of the school calendar.

Forms for candidacy for school board will be available by Feb. 23 at the board meeting and anytime after at the office of Mr. Sykuta's secretary in the Baker street school. Petitions may be filed from Feb. 25 through March 20.

Homeowners Meeting
The Homeowners Association held its regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 10 at the Thomas Lane schools. A letter was read from Zenon Sykuta, superintendent of schools, stating that the funds obtained from the dance scheduled for April 11 by the Association would be accepted with thanks.

A report was made on the light at 183rd and Anthony which was out and now being repaired and put back in service.

A letter from George Brogan giving legal advice on how the money entrusted to the Homeowners Association can be spent, as stated in (1) the offer to purchase, (2) contract of sale, and (3) corporate charter of the Association was read. As long as there is money in reserve to enforce the covenants and to maintain the ditches and public conveniences, the Association has the right to use the money for other purposes such as a building.

The annual public meeting will be held March 17. At this meeting the public will be invited to express their views. A review of all actions taken during the year by the association will be given and questions answered. The time and place of this meeting have not yet been determined.

The new representatives of Unit III were announced: Emil Wilkins, Mrs. Myrtle Koehn, William Biddle, Mrs. George Shaffner, Charles Smith, Geo. Boehm, William Boyer, James O'Connell, Robert Bell, William Lindecker, Nathaniel Risley, Edward Scharbach, Eric Moore, LeRoy Busa, James Leininger, Gerry Wiessner, James Manolis.

Woman's Club
The Cupids Ball held at Sanger hall by the Woman's Club of Country Club Hills, netted $215. The program for the next meeting will be announced.

Those wishing to have their children in the child dedication service next Sunday, Feb. 22 are asked to contact the Rev. Wendell Pew (SY 9-5116).

The Christian Women's Fellowship is looking forward to the meeting with the Rev. David Bryan of the University Church of Disciples of Christ. Mr. Bryan has travelled around the world many times, and will center his illustrated talk on the Middle East, the current study theme. This is a meeting to which husbands are invited.

The Rev. Pew will be attending the executive committee meeting of the Chicago Disciples Union Feb. 23. There will also be a noon meeting of the ministers of Christian Churches in the Chicago area in the loop.

The Pastor's class in membership is meeting Saturday mornings at 10 and others may yet join the group if they contact Mr. Pew.

Fire Protection District
Did you know that your fire man, the volunteers of the Country Club Hills Fire department have answered over 30 alarm calls since March of 1958? These calls have been of a varied nature and have been received at any hour. In the cases of actual fire we are very proud to state that the resulting damage was held to a minimum.

The firemen and the officers have devoted a total of over 1,474 hours in drills and training in order to better prepare themselves for emergencies they hope won't happen.

The drills and training are always going on and new methods thoroughly practiced. New equipment is added as funds are available to further promote community's safety and well being.

The trustee's meeting of the Fire Protection district is held the third Wednesday of every month and these meetings are open to the public.

The residents are asked to cooperate by saving their paper and setting it either on the sidewalk in front or in the carport.

At the regular meeting of the Boy Scouts held Wednesday evening, at 7:30, Capt. Robert Bridenbaugh of Chicago Helicopter Airways was guest speaker. Capt. Bridenbaugh flies both the large passenger helicopter between the three airports and the smaller helicopter that has the mail run. He explained the mechanics of a helicopter and told of some of his experiences.

On Saturday nine of the scouts went on a tour of the Chicago Helicopter Airways operation conducted by Capt. Bridenbaugh at Midway Airport. After the tour of the helicopter operation, Capt. Bud Phelps of Country Club Hills who accompanied the boys on the outing, took them to the TWA hanger where the boys inspected the inside of a Constellation from pilot's compartment on through the plane. Captain Phelps is a pilot for TWA.

Business and Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The relationship of profits to wages is a subject of great interest to investment analysts. It is rather generally accepted that the wage spiral is unlikely to be stopped in the foreseeable future.

In periods of good business, these wage raises can be absorbed by sales and price increases. However, in periods of falling volume of business, profit margins are vulnerable in situations where the percentage of labor costs to sales is high. During the last year and a half of lower sales volumes, many firms showed a sharp drop in profit margins with only a comparatively small drop in volume of business.

Obviously, a low wage to sales ratio is a desirable investment characteristic over firms with inflexible payrolls. The magazine Financial World in a recent issue, points out that the ratio of labor costs to sales, follows industry lines. The average wage payouts of all manufacturing firms, is between 25 per cent and 30 per cent but for most tobacco, oil, food and distilling firms, labor costs are usually between 10 and 15 per cent of sales dollars.

The magazine goes on to point out that air lines have a total payout to labor of about 40 per cent of their income. Naturally, any drop in income is quickly reflected by a drop in profits. The article also states that producers of office equipment, auto parts, shoes, steel and electrical products, have a high wage to sales ratio.

For those desiring it, the magazine has made up a list of firms with lower than average wage to sales percentages. There are ten firms listed with their percentage of sales paid in labor costs.

Allied Stores, 17.1%, General Foods, 12.7%, Gulf Oil, 11.4%, P. Lorillard, 7.9%, Penick & Ford, 17.5%, Pillsbury Co., 13.1%, Safeway Stores, 11.3%, Schenley Industries, 9.8%, Standard Brands, 11.5%, and Standard Oil of N. J. 12.7%.

One of the large Mutual Funds has sent out a booklet setting forth its opinion on a number of industries, in profile form. A few are listed.

Automobile, production at the lowest level in a decade in 1958, expected to rebound sharply, to be one of the industry's best in 1959.

Building, Expenditures for new construction of all types are forecast at another all time record in 1959.

Chemical, chemical production expected to be maintained at a high level in 1959. This industry has proven its ability its markets thru constant development of new products and processes.

Electronics, production of electronic equipment for private industry should continue to higher peaks and military use even further stimulated by greater missile and rocket activity. Also enhanced sales of appliances, radios, television etc.

Food, expenditures expected to reach a new high this year. This industry usually stable with population growth chief factor in consumption increases.

Industrial Machinery, covers wide range of manufacturers and all cyclical. With general business improvement, this industry to make substantial come back from 1958 figures. Mining, production of non-ferrous metals expected to rebound sharply with increase in general business and replenishment of inventories.

Petroleum, production of crude oil and natural gas should reach new peaks due to constantly increasing demands.

Steel, production recovering rapidly from 1958 depressed levels and expected to show 30 per cent increase this year.

The Bremen Beat

(Editor's note: this is the second and concluding installment in a series of stories about the swimming program at Bremen Community High School.)

That grace and rhythm can be developed in a swimming program for girls is a guiding principle at Bremen Community High School.

Synchronized swimming, which involves swimming to music and water ballet, will get underway at Bremen this semester. The rhythmic activity is designed to develop in girls the ability to handle themselves well in the water.

Judith Koerner, graduate of Culver-Stockett College in Canton, Mo., who attended the National Red Cross Aquatic school at Bloomington, has charge of the potential mermaids.

Miss Koerner, who has also taught swimming extensively in the Jefferson City, Mo., municipal pool and directed waterfront activity at a Girl Scout camp in Lake of the Ozarks, Mo., believes in starting the classes on the same keel so that they learn the basic skills together.

She recognizes the fact that some of the girls who can actually do swim strokes may be repeating poor habits already learned. In order to save energy, time and motion, she corrects any wrong patterns so as to insure good coordination.

Then the Bremen girls are divided into three groups: elementary, intermediate and swimmers.

Girls in the elementary group need to dunk their complexions into the water and then learn basic strokes. The intermediates have concepts of the strokes, but they need to execute them properly. Finally, the swimmers refine and perfect skills and work on advanced strokes.

"The first objective is safety so that the girls can take care of themselves in the water," Miss Koerner stated, adding that the second aim is perfection of strokes so that eventually the girl swimmer "presents a pleasing appearance in the water."

The third goal is endurance, since the girls accept their limitations by taking a slower pace than the allegedly stronger sex; and eventually they learn to swim farther and longer than before.

The Bremen program this year includes 18 weeks for juniors and 18 weeks for seniors. Next year's sophomores and juniors will have their eagerly awaited chance to swim in the new pool in class. After that Bremen girls will embark on a continued program in which swimming is a sophomore course.

A singular problem of the girls is their age old concern about their crowning glory—the hair with which some fear they can't do a thing with.

Miss Koerner solves the vital problem by the use of dryers and by judiciously giving the girls sufficient post-water time to straighten the dilemma.

Most girls like to swim, the instructor pointed out, noting that a large number of them were previously unable to swim; but now they are eager to learn.

The use of grades is an effective device in teaching swim skills, Miss Koerner declared, stressing that enrollment in the high school swim course is the surest way to learn to swim.

The Girls' Athletic Association at Bremen strengthens classroom swimming instruction by offering three six-week classes: first, beginning; second, intermediate; third, lifesaving. Anyone who passes the third course is qualified to be a lifeguard.

The Bremen swimming teacher spends much of her time in the pool, since she is lifeguard every Friday and Saturday and one or two nights every week for Girl Scouts, school organizations, and private parties in the pool.

Freshman Election

John Mensing, freshman at Bremen high school, was recently elected senator to the Student Council in a hotly contested election.

Close contenders were Ann Combes, Bob Deske, Betty Erickson, Marilyn Klenke, David Phillips, Philip Smith, Sue Vaughn and Susan May.

Win Essay Contest

They will compete in oral presentation in the council room of the Homewood Village Hall Friday, February 27, at 7:30 p.m. against six contestants from neighboring schools to determine who will be eligible to appear in the state contest to be conducted at a future date. Each will receive a key and a certificate.

Close runner-up was Geraldine Coad.

Katherine Nolan had charge of the contest, assisted by Patricia Bajt. Both are English teachers at Bremen. Reta Halderson, Lee Cox and Edwin Bruell, Bremen faculty members, were judges.

for the first semester, it was announced by T. R. Birkhead, superintendent.

All A's except one B were earned by Valerie Ippolito, Warren Leek, David Lilly, Dixon Slater, Donna Wainwright and Diana Williams, freshmen; Charles Albright, George Annen, Sharon Lee Bieniek, Thomas Billadeau, Margaret Fierke, Susan Holub, Arlene Mihalovits, Andrew Postlewaite, John Ragsdale, Margaret Simpson, Kay Swisher and John Szaton, sophomores; Barbara Brown, Nadine Doerr, and Charles Kindrick, juniors; and Joan Beaman, Craig Foster, Charles Okresik and Diane Ricchio, seniors.
